DEATH EXPLAINED

A sick man turned to his doctor as he was preparing to leave the examination room and said, "Doctor, I'm afraid to die. Tell me what lies on the other side." Very quietly, the doctor said, "I don't know..." "You don't know?" the man said, "And you're a Christian man aren't you and you don't know what's on the other side?" The doctor was holding the handle of the door, on the other side came the sound of scratching and whining, and as he opened the door, a dog sprang into the room and leaped on him with an eager show of gladness. Turning to the patient, the doctor said, "Did you notice my dog? He's never been in this room before. He didn't know what was inside. He knew nothing except that his Master was here, and when the door was opened, he sprang in without fear. I know little of what is on the other side of death, but I do know one thing..... I know my Master is there and that is enough for me."

WHAT A SIMPLE AND BEAUTIFUL PRAYER.

When you wake up, say:
Jesus I love You ...

When leaving the house, say:
Jesus come with me ...

When you feel like crying, say:
Jesus hug me ...

When you feel happy, say:
Jesus I adore You ...

When you do something, say:
Jesus help me ...

When you make a mistake, say:
Jesus forgive me ...

When you go to sleep, say:
Thank you Jesus and cover me with Your Holy Mantle.
God loves you!

JACK WALSH - BRODELLA, SHRULE (1963-2021)

Jack was born in July 1963, to his parents, Peter and Mary Walsh (nee Keady). He was the youngest of their nine children; he had six brothers and two sisters. Jack lived in Shrule all his life and took over the family farm in Brodella. For many years, he dedicated his time to developing the farm to a very high standard. He enjoyed big days out at the mart and agricultural shows. He kept high quality livestock and took great pride in his land. Jack was also a skilled blocklayer and worked on many projects, big and small, across Mayo and Galway. His work farming and blocklaying portrayed his hard-working character; he never left a job half done.

Jack married Teresa Hession from Ballyglunin in 1989. They had four children; Michelle, Nicola, Deborah and John. Jack and Teresa enjoyed many happy years together in Shrule, before her untimely passing in June 2019. Jack sorely missed her presence in his life but devoted his time to his family and the farm.

Jack was well known in the community and enjoyed attending card games and GAA matches, for both Shrule/Glencorrib and Mayo. He was always willing to lend a hand to community projects including Shrule's Millennium Labyrinth and the restoration of Shrule cemetery.

We, Jack's family, wish to thank everyone from the bottom of our hearts for their kindness and expressions of sympathy during this sad time. To all who called, text, sent cards and gifts, it has been very much appreciated. With special thanks to our neighbours and friends who dropped food to our door following Jack's passing. We have received many lovely letters and messages giving an insight into the helpful neighbour, gentleman and friend that he was. Jack will be greatly missed and will forever be in our hearts and prayers.

Put your arms around him Lord and treasure him with care, for you have in your possession a father beyond compare.

May his gentle soul Rest in Peace.

Glencorrib Church:

Bank: Ulster Bank Ireland DAC
Account Name: Shrule Glencorrib Church:
IBAN IE97ULSB98525010138153 and
BIC: ULSBIE2DXXX

With banking online please ensure full name is given as reference when making the standing order or account transfer, so the parish has a record of who has made their weekly contribution through each bank account. This is very important for the Charitable Donation Scheme. Thank you for your continuing support.

SUNDAY MASS LEAFLET & EASTER TRIDUM BOOKLET: The Mass leaflet for Palm Sunday and the booklet for the Easter Tridum are now available in porches of both churches. Please take one if you wish to follow the ceremonies and readings at home.

PALM SUNDAY: Palm will be available in both churches after Palm Sunday. Please ensure you sanitize before & after taking palm for your safety and the safety of others. Thank you for your cooperation and help.

HOLY WEEK: The ceremonies for Holy Week will be in both churches as usual so people can participate via the parish radio or the parish Facebook page.

PARISH FACEBOOK PAGE: I have received some feedback in the last week that some people are experiencing difficulty with the quality of streaming with the parish Facebook page. I was not aware of it. The matter was raised after Christmas and I understood it was resolved, but I understand from feedback that people are experiencing difficulty again. Firstly, thank you to those who brought it to my attention as otherwise I would not be known. Please help with your feedback so the parish can know if this is an occasional or widespread issue. Thank you.

JUST A THOUGHT – WELL WORTH A READ ☺

A real casualty of the pandemic has been communal life; simply meeting each other, dropping in on each other, the chat, the hug and the banter, family gatherings, holidays, meeting of friends in church, for lunch, shopping etc. - the list goes on. Many, people are feeling very isolated and while the vaccine has given people a boost, we are a long way from the gentle casual caring community that has been so much part of our lives. Whenever we get back to normal the major task will be to "rebuild community".

It seems to me that older parishioners will be wary of even being out and about, of coming back to church etc. as in pre Covid days. In terms of Mass, given that you can now turn off the preacher if the celebrant is waffling online and you can "church hop" on the internet from your bed, the habit of faith community may have been broken for good, not just for the "occasionals" but also the "regulars".

Some Positives: The "on-line Masses" are a new dimension and are appreciated. Far more people are "tuning in" to Mass on-line on a daily basis than ever "attended" Mass in their local church. Even though telephone calls and emails are not an ideal means of communication and lack intimacy, they facilitated some real meaningful conversations and relationships that might not have occurred. If the pandemic changes the way we do weddings for example that will be a good thing. People know they do not have to remortgage their lives now to wed; things have become simpler and more genuine.

Spirituality and religion have big challenges ahead. There are parishes where the bond between priest and people has deepened over the last year and others where it has vaporised. Religion for religion's sake is gone and that is not a bad thing. Religion I suspect has become more "personal" and less of a "cultural habit". Relying on the ways things were done in the past will not be adequate. Removing the drama and the hype is not a bad thing. Many people have recovered their faith and need for God and if that is not the foundation of what we do going forward, then forget it. When we are allowed to gather again we will have to meet as people of faith with a renewed authenticity and open a real conversation about rebuilding church and community.

Have a good weekend.

Fr. Gerry Jennings, Salthill

SCATTERED THOUGHTS: The influence on our modern world of 'Zoom meetings', instant 'Social Media', 'Twitter', 'Facebook', 'WhatsApp' 'Instagram' etc is enormous. Often 'truth' and 'balanced comment' can take a bashing in the rush to judgement, and the hurt to the individual can be enormous. In the use of modern global technology we need to be reminded that 'The world exists for everyone, because every one of us is born with the same dignity. Differences of colour, religion, talent, place of birth, ethnic origin, and many other factors cannot be used to justify the privilege or dominance of some over the rights of all. As a Christian community we have an obligation to ensure that every person lives in dignity and has sufficient opportunities for his or her integral development. (Para phrased from Pope Francis) As we approach Easter we are reminded that Jesus died for all and we are all brothers and sisters. The current 'row' about the distribution of vaccines is another blot on the copybook of equality as is the promotion of 'Nationalism, the expectation by some of 'the right to privilege' and so on. To be sure there are more complex political and economic challenges for our leaders to navigate and protagonists need to be generous in resolving issues but that 'they all may be one' is still the target and goal and ultimate message of Easter.

Fr. Gerry Jennings, Salthill

SPRING FORWARD

Don't forget to put your clocks forward by 1 hour on Sunday next 28th March @ 1am.

A LITTLE BIT OF HUMOUR

- Why haven't aliens visited our solar system yet? They looked at the reviews... only 1 star.
- Does anyone know the price of sandpaper? Roughly?
- I once told me 5 year-old daughter she had her shoes on the wrong feet, her reply was they're the only feet I have.
- You drop something when you were younger, you just picked it up. When you're older and you drop something, you stare at it for a bit contemplating if you actually need it anymore.

ENDA (27 June 1930 – 24 February 2021)

Sometimes the teachers who influence our lives most do so, not because of what they taught us, but rather because of how they made us feel about ourselves. The teachers who have motivated and encouraged me most have been those who helped me believe in myself and inspired me with a passion for their subject. Fr Enda Mc Donagh, who passed away recently, was one such teacher. 'Enda' as he was affectionately known by staff and students alike, was Professor of Moral Theology in St Patrick's College, Maynooth for almost forty years. In that time he taught hundreds if not thousands of men preparing for the priesthood not to mention innumerable lay people, male and female, studying theology.

Born in Bekan, (the same village as Fr. Richard Tarpey who passed away on 28/02/2021 was from) he was a Mayo man through and through and was, up until his death, arguably, the most renowned and distinguished Irish Theologian of our times. An intellectual colossus, he wore his learning lightly and was always approachable by struggling student and challenging academic alike. A free and deep thinker he was never afraid to challenge injustice of any kind, even within the Church and he frequently found himself at odds with Church authority on matters of social justice and sexual ethics. Enda Mc Donagh was a passionate believer in the separation of Church and State and in the mid eighties was heavily involved in the New Ireland Forum. He was instrumental in shaping the social agenda of former Taoiseach, Dr Garret Fitzgerald and was the official chaplain to Mary Robinson during her time as President of Ireland. His work for Ecumenism earned him the title of Honorary Canon in the Church of Ireland.

The author of a myriad of books, Enda was a master of words who lectured all over the world. He believed that no time, no culture and no church had a monopoly on truth but that as humankind continued to evolve and develop in its self-understanding and in its understanding of who God is, that it's understanding of what is true and right and just grew clearer. He invited his students not just to think for themselves but to develop a way of thinking which was Christ-centred and focused on the other.

While always challenging, he was kind and tolerant. He pushed me out of my comfort zone and encouraged me to read and to think beyond the tried and tested and the safe. He demanded excellence and drew the very best out of his students. But most of all he helped me to believe in myself and in the value and worth of my own thinking. He believed in me. On finishing my studies, I had to 'defend' my written work before a panel of academics. It was always a nerve-wracking experience as you could be pulled up on the smallest thing, even spelling or an inaccurate footnote. Enda was on my panel. He simply asked me how what I had learnt from my studies would impact on how I would be as a priest.

For Enda theology was much more than just an academic pursuit, it formed you as a follower of Jesus Christ. An indication of the esteem in which Enda was held was demonstrated when within hours of his death President Michael D Higgins issued a generous tribute. It was 24 hours later before the official church did the same. Respected and admired far and wide as a brilliant and forward-thinking theologian Enda was repeatedly overlooked when it came to 'promotion' within the Irish church. Our loss. God Bless.

Fr Tod Nolan, Burrishoole

DON'T FORGET TO SET YOUR CLOCKS FORWARD 1 HOUR ON SUNDAY NEXT 28th MARCH @ 1AM.

In March 2019, The European Parliament had voted to dispense entirely with the biannual clock changes. This spring was the last year when we'd have to move the clock forward by an hour. However with Coronavirus and Brexit this was postponed. Now the UK expressed that it has no immediate plans to give up daylight saving within its borders. So if Ireland follows the rest of the EU in abandoning daylight saving, it risks creating two different times on the island for half the year. A solution to this would be to align Northern Ireland's time with the Republic's, but that would grate on many Northern Irish unionists, who would now find themselves chronologically out of step with Britain. This could be fixed easily if the U.K. followed the EU — but that is something that its current government have little inclination or motivation to do.

SHRULE PARISH is committed to the protection of all children and young people in our Church. Please see our notice board for contact details.

'WE SHOULD LIKE TO SEE JESUS'

Those poor Greeks. Did you notice that they never actually get to meet Jesus? At the start of today's gospel, some Greeks who are followers of Jesus come to Jerusalem. They are travellers, outsiders, and would like to meet Jesus in person. But when Philip and Andrew relay the request, Jesus begins to talk about how his 'hour' is coming. It is the last we hear of the Greeks, who disappear from the story altogether. But they are important nonetheless.

Firstly, they indicate that word about Jesus is spreading. More importantly, they prompt Jesus to reveal that, when his hour comes, he will draw 'all people' to himself. In the space of a few short verses, we go from a brief mention of a group of foreigners seeking Jesus, to Jesus making it clear that his saving mission is for all people, of all nations, both Jews and Gentiles – including these Greeks! There is no suggestion from Jesus that some groups are 'in' and others 'out'. All are included. All are invited. All are welcome.

I remember once hearing someone describe their home as a domestic church, a place of 'indiscriminate welcome'. As we continue our journey through Lent and soon into Holy Week, we listen carefully to these words of Jesus. He came for everyone. He wishes to draw all people to himself. Notwithstanding the current restrictions on gatherings and public worship, let us take this time to reflect on the world we would like to build when things open up again. Are we open to everyone, including 'outsiders'? Do our homes, parishes and communities radiate welcome, where all who enter experience God's love? 'For some, the good news is that there are insiders and outsiders and they are the insiders. For others, the good news is that there are no outsiders.'

(Rachel Held Evans)

John 12:20-30

We wish to see Jesus!

TURNING TO GOD FOR FORGIVENESS THIS LENT

As we move closer to Holy Week, many people's thoughts turn to the sacrament of reconciliation as part of the journey of Lent. Unfortunately, at this time of restrictions our parishes are not in a position to make this sacrament freely available to people. But, of course, the forgiveness of God is always available to us and there are many ways in which we can experience God's mercy, love and forgiveness as we anticipate. Alternatively, in your own time, you can spend some time in prayer to God and make what is known as an act of perfect contrition. This involves two things on the part of the person: firstly, to pray an act of contrition out of love of God and secondly, to make a firm commitment to go to confession when that becomes possible.

An Act of Contrition:

O my God, I thank you for loving me. I am sorry for all my sins, for not loving others and not loving you. Help me to live like Jesus and not sin again. Amen.

Reminder of the words of Pope Francis in Lent 2020:

"It [the Catechism] is very clear: if you do not find a priest to hear your confession, speak to God, he is your Father, and tell him the truth...Promise him: 'Later I will confess, but forgive me now.' And immediately you will return to the grace of God."

WILDLIFE SURVEY 2021

Calling all residents from Shrule, Glencorrib and Kilroe! Your help is sought to assist in taking part in a wildlife survey by recording wildlife sightings in your area throughout the year 2021. The findings of the survey, will be compiled and provided to the community and the county libraries for further educational and community purposes. Help record sightings of our wild birds, mammals, insects and amphibians. All you have to record is the species, date of sighting, village/townland and type of habitat (garden, hedgerow, farmland). You can record and return monthly to the following email address sgkwildlifesurvey@gmail.com Everyone is welcome to assist so please spread the word to your family and friends.

SPIRITUAL COMMUNION PRAYER:

My Jesus, I believe that you are present in the most Blessed Sacrament. I love You above all things and I desire to receive You into my soul. Since I cannot now receive You sacramentally, come at least spiritually into my heart. I embrace You as if You were already there, and unite myself wholly to You. Never permit me to be separated from You. Amen.

REMEMBERING YOUR LOVED ONES:

If you're loved ones from the parish are not listed in our weekly listing and you would like them to be remembered, then please ☎ / Text 0863782156 or email glencorrib2000@gmail.com with their details. "To be forgotten is to die twice"

You may think that you are completely insignificant in this world. But someone drinks coffee from the favorite cup that you gave them. Someone heard a song on the radio that reminded them of you. Someone read the book that you recommended, and plunged headfirst into it. Someone smiled after a hard day's work, because they remembered the joke that you told them today. Someone loves themselves a little bit more, because you gave them a compliment. Never think that you have no influence whatsoever. Your trace, which you leave behind with every good deed, cannot be erased.

COULD THIS BE YOU?

The other day, I was hanging with a friend. This friend calls himself a Christian, but doesn't always act like it. Some days he's on fire for the LORD, some days life's struggles seem to get the best of him. So, as our eyes met, I really wanted to say something about it to him, but I decided to just let the LORD speak to his heart, knowing nothing I could say could ever possibly have the impact that the LORD making Himself real in his heart would make. So I prayed with him, and finally, after some time, I winked... and walked away from the mirror. ❤️❤️❤️

BOTH SHRULE & GLENCORRIB CHURCHES are open seven days a week for some quiet prayer and reflection.

PARISH OFFICE TIMES: Shrule Parochial House every Tuesday (10.30am-12noon) Glencorrib Curate's House every Wednesday (10.30am-12noon) You are welcome to call outside these times, and if Fr. Vivian is not available, please leave a message ☎ 093-31262.

HISTORICAL SGK MARCH 2021 PROJECT: Photographs that mean something to you: Michael Fortune from www.folklore.ie had a zoom meeting this evening Sunday 21st March showing and interviewing people who had sent in photos of objects that meant a lot to them. It put me thinking of a small project that we could do. Take a photo or photos of something in your family home / farm / business that means a lot to you or has been in your possession for a while. I'm sure if we looked around the house or in the shed, we'd find one or two things of interest. Send in your photos to glencorrib2000@gmail.com by 31st March 2021.
